Biografie

Ann Wauters is known as Captain of the Belgian Cats, Professional Basketball player and Keynote & Motivational Speaker.

She wrote the book "The Game of Life". The story from a shy girl to an internationally acclaimed sports personality and assistant coach in the WNBA.

Her motto: "Making a difference every day, through hard work."

Ann Wauters has been playing professional basketball for over 20 years in 7 different countries on 3 continents. She has won the Euroleague title 4 times, a WNBA championship, a Eurocup title and a bronze medal at the European Championships with the Belgian Cats. She was 5 times also named European Player of the Year.

Ann Wauters knows how to work in a team and be successful in a highly competitive world. She is very passionate about sharing her experiences and showing the parallels between top sport and business.

MY FAMILY

Together with my wife Lot whom I married in 2007, we had 3 darling children: Lou, Vince and Dree.

With all the titles and awards I have won in my life, I am still most proud of them. Without their support and flexibility, I could never have lived the life I did. So I am immensely grateful to them for that.

GIVING BACK

I always love to give back to the world that has given me so many wonderful things. I work closely with SOS Children's Villages and I am a godmother of the Gbasket at Kortrijk Spurs. I'm always open to do my bit, so feel free to contact me with your project and I'll see if I can do something for you.

EDUCATION

I graduated in Latin-Sciences and have always been someone who tries to learn every day. I also have a Certificate from the FIBA Time Out Program, have my trainer A Basketball degree and a certificate from the IOC Power Up Athletes Care.

AMBASSADOR

I am a proud ambassador of Volvo and 6D nutrition. I am extremely grateful to them for the trust and cooperation we have.
