Biografie

Elke is a doctor in psychology and held various academic positions at the universities of Harvard, St. Andrews, Maastricht and Rotterdam. Elke is co-founder and managing partner of the international consultancy company Better Minds at Work and wrote the bestseller Better Minds. Elke is keen to give speeches that last and give you insight about your brain and that of your organization.

Elke gives stimulating keynote speeches about how we as humans can get the best out of life (work and private life). Elke speaks passionately about how you can organize your life a little more consciously and thus increase your resilience and energy. Her approach is founded on both the latest scientific insights and her practical experience within the business world.

Elke gave vibrant talks in Cape Town, New York, Dubai, Sydney and Lima and is keen to inspire you and your organization.
