Biografie

Dr Mark van Rijmenam is the author of three best-selling management books on big data, blockchain and AI. His latest book - The Organisation of Tomorrow - details how AI, blockchain and analytics turn your business into a data organization. He is the founder of Dataflog.com, a leading content platform on emerging technologies. He recently founded Mavin.org, a decentralized reputation-based content network to bring (anonymous) accountability to the internet. He holds a PhD in Management from the University of Technology in Sydney, where he did research on how big data, blockchain and AI are changing organisations. He is member of the 2Tokens project in The Netherlands, developing a roadmap towards realising value from Tokenisation.

He is the publisher of the 'f\(x\) = ex' newsletter, read by thousands of executives, on the future of work and the organization of tomorrow. Dr Van Rijmenam has spoken in 20 countries across the
