Biografie

Suzanne Meijroos, by only looking at her you can see she is different, she will just not fit in one box. Born with some exceptional traits and challenges, It was hard to navigate through what was considered normal in early life. Dealing with rejection, physical and mental abuse, she had her share of struggles in life. She went off the beaten track, started some intense self study and gained knowledge through every experience, especially the painful ones. She loves to share her stories, findings, strategies and visions and empowers others to find their unique expression.
