Andrew Bryant is the Self-leadership Authority with the New Leadership Playbook to Close the Leader-Employee Gap.

You can't lead others unless you first lead yourself, which is Self-leadership, and The New Leadership Playbook provides leaders with a solution to have 1-to-1 and 1-to-many conversations.

SHORT BIOGRAPHY ANDREW BRYANT

- From 10 years old, working in his father's hardware shop at weekends and holidays taught him work ethic.
- Starting his career as a physiotherapist working with athletes he learned how the body works.
- Studying Acupuncture and Psychology gave him an appreciation of both Eastern and Western thinking.

- Working in Europe, Asia, Australia, and the USA showed him the importance of understanding cultural nuances.
- Coaching C-level Executives, Executive Leadership Teams, and entrepreneurs have given him insights into what it takes to be successful.

Andrew Bryant has been twice recognized by Singapore's President, Mdm. Halimah Yacob. Once for his work coaching Self-leadership to disadvantage teenagers, and more recently for his work on empowering Women leaders.

English by birth, Australian by passport, Brazilian by wife, and now living in Portugal after 17 years in Asia, Andrew Bryant is truly an international keynote speaker.
